About us:

Founded in 1852, Albany Guardian Society (AGS) is one of the region's oldest not-for-profit charitable foundations.

Albany Guardian Society offers over 125 classes per year in a small classroom setting or through Zoom on topics of interest to both consumers and aging service providers. The Capital Region Villages Collaborative (CRVC) is a project started by Albany Guardian Society and is comprised of individuals, agencies, organizations, and Villages interested in forming, operating, and supporting emerging and existing Villages in the Capital Region. Albany Guardian Society also publishes a "Housing Options for Senior Adults" directory which provides detailed information on different types of housing that are available for seniors looking to downsize or to move within the Capital Region. Also available, are the "Adult Day Services in the Capital Region" and "Transportation Options for Seniors in the Capital Region" directories.
